

Anne-Marie Gerard Galler brings decades of professional theatre experience to Curtain Call! Dancing since the age of three, Anne-Marie was a professional performer by the age of sixteen, traveling the world by cruise ship...the youngest performer thereto hired by NCL. Her passion led her to NYC, where she earned her Equity card as the lead dancer, Graziella, in the final production of West Side Story personally overseen by Jerome Robbins, in Me and My Girl and Prince of Central Park on Broadway, and in regional productions both nationally and internationally. Teaching dance throughout Westchester NY and Connecticut for the past twenty-two years, she has choreographed for many theaters, and has been Choreographer-In-Residence for John Jay Educational Campus for the past sixteen years. Also a YRT 200 certified yoga instructor. She most recently choreographed Curtain Call's Summer Youth Theatre production of The Pajama Game, her first Curtain Call production. Anne-Marie lives in Goldens Bridge with her husband, Golden Retriever Braeburn, and son Tristan – her favorite production!
